DAYTON, OHIO 45409 AREA CODE 513 461-5500 EXT. 500

DAYTON, Ohio, Nov. 4, 1968 --- Mrs. Olive L. Holmes, judge of the juvenile division of Common Pleas Court in Hamilton County (Cincinnati) will be one of four experts in guidance and counseling who will address the Ohio Association of Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors when they hold their annual convention in Dayton, Nov. 8, 9, and 10 at the Statler Hilton Inn. Two hundred members of the association will attend the three day meeting.

Also addressing the group will be Dr. William H. Grant, associate professor of counseling, personnel services and educational psychology at Michigan State University; Dr. Robert J. Havighurst, social scientist and professor of education at the Universities of Chicago and Missouri; and Dr. Mabel M. Riedinger, professor of education, University of Akron.

Margaret Holland, dean of women at the University of Dayton, is in charge of local arrangements for the group during the Dayton meeting, assisted by Victoria Manos, Mary B. Nason and Patricia Reiling, assistant deans of women at U.D.

All four of the speakers have extensive background in guidance, counseling and educational psychology.

Prior to entering the practice of law, Judge Holmes was in personnel and social work with the Hamilton County Child Welfare Board. She was a case worker, handled adoptions and worked with mentally disturbed and psychotic children. Before assuming her present position Mrs. Holmes was judge of the Cincinnati Municipal Court.

Dr. Robert Havighurst began his teaching career as a chemist and physicist but changed to the field of social science. He was professor of education at the University of Chicago for nearly 25 years and in 1965 accepted the same post at the University of Missouri in Kansas City. He is a brother of Walter Havighurst, professor of English at Miami University and well-known author of historical books.

Dr. Harold Grant is a graduate of Auburn University and received his doctorate in education from Columbia. He had been assistant dean of students at Cornell and assistant professor of guidance at Auburn before joining the teaching staff at Michigan State.

Dr. Mabel Riedinger is a graduate of Mount Union College and received her doctorate in education from Teachers College, Columbia University. She is head of the department of administration and pupil of the University of Akron.

President of the Ohio Association of Women Deans, Administrators and Counselors is Lucile C. Mowrey, Schaff Junior High, Parma, Ohio; secretary is Fayettea Paulsen, Dean of Women, Bowling Green State U.; and treasurer is Louise N. Stewart, director of testing, Zanesville city schools.

President-elect is Margaret M. Deppen, associate dean of students at Ohio U.
